to the unstudied eye st matthew s gospel can seem a terse narrative of a society in early modern britain

~~a religion of the word the defence of the reformation in the reign of edward vi historical document and not the tremendously spiritual and doctrinal storehouse~~ politics culture and society in early modern britain that it is in his third volume of meditations on matthew chapters 19 25 erasmo leiva continues to show matthew s prose to be not terse so much as economical astoundingly so given its depth the lay reader can derive great profit from reading this each short meditation comments on a verse or two pointing to some facet of the text not immediately apparent but rich with meaning leiva s work is scholarly but eminently approachable by the lay reader the tone is very much of taste and see how good the lord is and an invitation of friend come up higher the goal of the book is to help the reader experience the heat of the divine heart and the light of the divine word leiva comments on the greek text demonstrating nuances in the text that defy translation he uses numerous quotes from the fathers and the liturgy of the church to demonstrate the way the tradition has lived and read the word of god his theological reflection vivifies doctrine by seeking its roots in the words and actions of jesus 1188 sermon suggestions one from every chapter in the bible morgan s expositions sparkle as they enhance bible texts from every chapter in the bible concise and delightfully free of redundancy these selections reveal the master expositor s keen analytical insight into god s word to encourage preachers and bible teachers to develop their own sermon and lesson themes creatively the author mentions that these are sermon suggestions not sermons or sermon outlines he intentionally left the notes untitled preferring to let the text of scripture be their only caption these penetrating truths firmly anchored in scripture are best described by g campbell morgan himself on every page of the god breathed writings there are many thoughts which stretch out like long clear arms of light across the darkness discovering things which otherwise were hidden and often illuminating wider areas than those of the immediate context they are searchlights from the multitude of these i have selected one in each chapter of the bible perhaps the work will also serve to illustrate a method of showing how focal points of radiating light gather their radiance from the context
